From The Senior Pastor

The Broadway Musical Hamilton is, in my opinion, a true work of artistic genius that stands the test of time. To draw the audience into the many events unfolding simultaneously during the American Revolution, its song The Room Where It Happens repeatedly returns to the word meanwhile... reminding us that history is never just one story at a time:

Meanwhile, Madison is grappling with the fact that not every issue can be settled by committee / Meanwhile, Congress is fighting over where to put the capital / It isn't pretty.

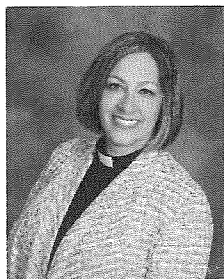

Something similar occurs in the book of Acts. As the story progresses, Saul is persecuting the church (not yet converted into a great man of God). Times are truly fraught. And alongside of all of it, we come across this verse: Meanwhile the church throughout Judea, Galilee, and Samaria had peace and was built up. Living in the fear of the Lord and in the comfort of the Holy Spirit, it increased in numbers (Acts 9:31).

The multiplicity of events can be summed up with that one word: meanwhile.

For example, soon I will be packing up my office, yet the most important treasure is the lifetime of memories and gratitude in our family's hearts. Meanwhile, important transition meetings are occurring, and leaders are glimpsing possibilities. Meanwhile, a Roof Phase 2 project will be brought before you for consideration (Aug 9, 10am). Meanwhile, Sunday School teachers are being recruited, and students are getting excited for the fair, for athletic practices, for back-to-school and back-to-church. Meanwhile, Lutefisk Dinner logistics are being put into place. And meanwhile, each of us are having important spiritual moments of our own.

You see, everything we do, and everything we are, happens in the meanwhile. The experiences we share as a congregation, as believers, as people—converge, diverge, and converge again. Our Lord Jesus is active in a variety of ways... simultaneously...for each of us, and for all of us.

This will be my last column, so permit me one last thought: please do not be idle in the meanwhile, passively waiting for what's next, or grasping too long to what was. Identify, celebrate, make yourself available to all that our Risen Savior is making happen, right now...in the meanwhile.

And meanwhile, I look forward to our worshiping, studying, and serving together through August 16.

God bless and keep you. I know God will.
With deepest affection,

Rev. Heidi Klingman

Pastor Heidi (with Paul, Luke, and Jonathan too)

FROM YOUR PRESIDENT

Dear Members of Frist Lutheran Church,

Since the last newsletter many things have happened at FLC. Pastor Hedi's 25th anniversary of her ordination. There was celebration after service July 12. Then the sad news of Pastor Heidi's resignation on July 14 and letter was sent out. On August 16, after more than 25 years, it was her last service with us here at FLC. We wish her nothing but the best in her future journey.

At this time the council has met with the ELCA Synod and are working on Phase I for the Interim Pastor. Included in newsletter is an overview of the call process and phases.

On the building issues – the lightning strike on the steeple was taken care of by Meyerhofer Steel and Construction. They spent 3 days with 3 men repairing the cross and recaulking seams. They donated their time and crane services. A big thank you to Meyerhofer for their generosity.

Next issue – Roof leaks on east end above offices and sacristy. After consulting with Malo Roofing found out roof is 32 years old and needs to be replaced. On Aug 9 a congregational meeting was held after church to present plan to go forward with Roof Project Phase II. It was presented for vote and passed by all in attendance. Should be done this fall. We will be starting to fundraise to pay for roof project soon.

This will take all of us to step up to the challenges ahead.

God Bless all of you,

Doug Hillson

SUNDAY SCHOOL NEWS

We trust this message finds you rejuvenated after what we hope was a wonderfully restorative summer season.

As we transition into the new academic and spiritual year, we are thrilled to announce the much-anticipated return of our Sunday School program. We are diligently preparing to reopen our doors and warmly welcome all children back for a season of learning, fellowship, and spiritual growth.

Our first day of Sunday is September 13, which will also be a special "Rally Sunday" event designed to kick off the year with enthusiasm and community spirit. Our classrooms are meticulously prepared and stocked, eagerly awaiting both our returning students and any new children who wish to join our vibrant learning environment. We are genuinely excited to reconnect with every child, witness their joyful expressions, and hear about their experiences as they continue to deepen their trust in God and explore their personal faith journeys.

For all dedicated teachers and helpers, orientation session will be held on Wed, Sept 2, at 5PM. Your commitment is vital to the success of our program, and we look forward to reviewing plans for the upcoming year.

To further support our Sunday School's mission and ensure we can provide the best possible resources for our children, we will soon be circulating an Amazon Wish List. This list will outline specific items and materials needed, offering a convenient way for our community members to contribute to the enrichment of our program. Your generosity is deeply appreciated and directly impacts the experiences of our young learners.

We eagerly anticipate an enriching and inspiring year ahead.

To keep everyone fully informed and to know what to expect, we wanted to share the ELCA's ethical pastoral boundaries (below).

It is also helpful for the rostered leader to share with the congregation the ethical boundaries regarding pastoral acts by former pastors and deacons. In the ELCA, there is a very clear understanding of these pastoral boundaries. These applies both to rostered leaders who accept another call and to those who retire. Once a rostered leader has left a call, that person may not:

- ☐ Do funerals for persons from the former congregation.
- ☐ Do weddings for persons from the former congregation.
- ☐ Interfere in the life, pastoral care or mission of that former congregation.
- ☐ Return to or engage in the life of the congregation.
- ☐ Retain membership with the congregation.

Information regarding the call process: The next 2 pages are the SEMN Synod's Call Process Overview and explains the four phases of the call process. Please take a minute to read so you are informed on our next steps in this transition time.

SEMN Synod Traditional Call Process Overview for Congregations and Councils

The time between when a rostered leader announces his or her resignation and the next 'settled' roster leader begins his or her call is a special time in the life of the congregation. It is a time filled with hope and expectation, of questioning and experimentation. It can also be a time of anxiety.

The first and foremost task of the congregation and of its leaders during this time is spiritual reflection and prayer. Prayer, bible study, and regular devotions will keep the congregation spiritually centered, responsive to the movement of the Spirit, and focused on what God's hopes for this congregation and its mission are.

A Four Phase Process

The congregations of the SEMN Synod participate in a Four Phase Call Process.

Phase I: The Leave-taking/The Transition-time

At the point that a rostered leader announces that they are resigning their call at the congregation, a representative from the Office of the Bishop will meet with the congregational council to orient them to the call process. It is also at this time that information about transitional pastoral support is shared with the council in order that they might make the best decision about how the congregation and ministries will be cared for upon the departure of the current rostered leader. It is during this phase that a conversation is had regarding what it means for a rostered leader to leave well and the expectation to honor boundaries set forth by the ELCA between the congregation and the leaving rostered leader. This is also the time to celebrate the ministry that the rostered leader and the congregation have shared and the council forms and appoints the call committee.

Phase II: Self-Study Process and Ministry Site Profile Completion

In this phase, the call committee participates in an orientation facilitated by the assistant to the bishop. The call committee explores vision and ministry needs of the congregation by engaging the congregation in a self-study which may be accomplished through a variety of ways. The self-study leads to the completion of the Ministry Site Profile (MSP) which becomes an integral document shared with potential candidates as their first exposure to who your congregation is. After the MSP is completed and before it is officially submitted, a congregational town hall meeting may be held to review and comment on the MSP. This is attended by the Assistant to the Bishop in call process. After final edits are made to the MSP, it is submitted by the call committee on the ELCA website.

Phase III: Interviewing Candidates/Discerning the Candidate of Choice

Once again, this phase begins with an orientation of the call committee. In the orientation the call committee will discuss its interview protocol, develop questions for candidates and prepare packets of information for candidates. It is also at this time that the call committee will elicit nominations of pastoral candidates from the congregation. When the call committee is ready to begin interviews, they will receive names of candidates from the Assistant to the Bishop in Call Process. The call committee engages in first interviews with each candidate that is presented to them. After the first interviews are completed, the call committee chairperson communicates with each candidate as to whether they will retain or release the candidate. The call committee engages in second interviews and gathers other information (including sermon and reference checks). The call committee discerns the candidate of choice and, with mutual consent from the candidate, presents the candidate of choice recommendation to congregation council. The congregation council sets the date for the special congregational call meeting.

Phase IV: Preparing for and Welcoming the New Pastor

The pastor, the council president and the Assistant to the Bishop coordinate a date for the installation of the new pastor. An Assistant to the Bishop will be present to perform the rite of installation. Congregation council and call committee plan activities to welcome the new pastor (and family) to the congregation and the community.

Phase One: Introduction

The call process is primarily Spiritual Work

The time between when a rostered leader announces his or her resignation and the next ‘settled’ roster leader begins his or her call is a special time in the life of the congregation. It is a time filled with hope and expectation, of questioning and experimentation. It can also be a time of anxiety.

The first and foremost task of the congregation and of its leaders during this time is spiritual reflection and prayer. Prayer, bible study, and regular devotions will keep the congregation spiritually centered, responsive to the movement of the Spirit, and focused on what God’s hopes for this congregation and its mission are.

Every gathering of the congregation, whether it be for worship, for meetings, or for social interaction is an opportunity to gird the call process in prayer. Through bulletin announcements, newsletters, and social media people can be invited into deep reflection about the mission and ministry of the congregation.

Understanding Call

At the very core of Lutheran theology is the ‘priesthood of all believers.’ In baptism, God has called us all to be part of the body of Christ. We are all ministers of the Gospel in our daily lives. Within this priesthood of all believers, there are some who are called to serve the people of God through Word and Sacrament ministry (Clergy) or through Word and Service ministry (Deacon).

Rostered Leaders (Clergy and Deacons) are called, not hired, to serve congregations. A call to a rostered leader to serve is one element in the church’s seeking and following God’s movement into the future. The call process is not the same as a hiring process in other parts of society. For in a call process, the congregation is seeking and following God’s movement into the future. The congregation engages in an effort to discern what God wants for their setting so that the Gospel may be more fully proclaimed. This call is not just a call to the congregation – it is a call by the whole church to engage in the ministry of the Gospel.

The Call to Ministry

God calls some Christians to rostered ministry. Once that call is discerned, individuals normally devote years to study, training, and preparation under the guidance of the Office of the Bishop, the Candidacy Committee, and the leadership of the seminaries.

Similarly, through the church, God calls rostered leaders to a specific ministry. Local congregations participate directly in the call process. The whole church also participates through the office of the Bishop. Just as the whole church took an active role as individuals prepared for ministry, so now the whole church takes an active role in the call to a specific ministry. This is demonstrated by the process through which a person is approved for rostered ministry in the church. Candidates must receive and accept a call to a specific ministry in order to be ordained as pastors or consecrated as deacons. The rite of ordination or consecration usually occurs in a local congregation, but it is always an action by the whole church. That’s why a Bishop of the Church presides at all ordination and consecration services.

The Church, the Congregation and Call

The work of the call process is not just the work of the local congregation. The whole church has a stake in this process since the whole church is involved in the proclamation of the Gospel, wherever it occurs. The congregational leadership, the call committee, and the congregation all participate in different ways in this process. The Office of the Bishop also participates, representing the commitment of the whole church to the “next best chapter in ministry” for both the congregation and the rostered leader. The Office of the Bishop, the congregation, and the prospective rostered leader work together to insure that this new ministry is faithful to the Gospel, empowers the local congregation in its ministry, and strengthens the witness of the whole church.

From The Associate Pastor

Dear Friends in Christ,

It is officially the time of year when I yearn for the weather to change, the leaves to turn and the sweaters to come out. While we still probably have at least another month of warm temperatures and green grass our program year begins this week with confirmation orientation on Wednesday September 2nd at 6:30pm Wow!

Our confirmation team, myself, Sarah Esplan and Melissa Stoen have been working hard to make sure this year is truly fantastic! Our confirmation curriculum this year focuses on Catechism or what we believe as Lutherans. We'll explore the Lord's Prayer, the Creed and the Ten Commandments as well as worship and the history of the Lutheran Church! Confirmation parents please make note of the following dates.

Wednesday September 2 - 6:30pm Confirmation Orientation. 8th, 9th, and 10th graders and their parents will meet in the sanctuary. We will have paperwork for you to fill out that night. Please note that this is BEFORE LABOR DAY. We follow the Leominster Prairie School District Calendar and do confirmation orientation the first week of school. After this we will meet every Wednesday at 6:30pm.

Sunday October 18 - 6:30pm Evening of Sharing. This is the worship during which our 10th graders share their faith statements! Have loved ones put this on their calendar early. It is MEA weekend!

Sunday October 25 - 11:00am Confirmation Worship. Students need to be ready at 10:00am to rehearse for worship!

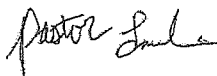

Wednesday October 28 - 6:30pm 7th Grade Confirmation Orientation. 7th Grade Students and their parents are invited to register their student and learn about the process of confirmation!

Sunday November 8: 11am 7-12th grade Apple Orchard Visit! Join us for a fun afternoon at an apple orchard in Faribault! More information to come!

For those with younger students Sunday School begins

Sunday September 13 -Have you registered your student? Do you know someone (student or adult) who would love to teach Sunday School? Please let myself or Tracy know!

While I look forward to the change of season and the beautiful colors and warm sweaters it invites, I know that change is also a difficult thing. As we enter a season of transition please know that our staff and leadership are focused on continuing the work of this congregation, especially its youth and families. Thanks be to God for you, your family and everything to come.

Peace, Pastor Laurel

FROM YOUR VICE-PRESIDENT

WE'VE GOT THIS COVERED!

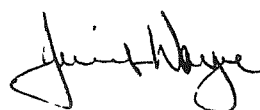

This is the new slogan for the Stewardship team this fall.

So what is it we've got covered?

- The final section of a new roof, coming very soon.
- Fundraising for the new roof.
- The transition following the departure of our Senior Pastor.
- Welcoming an interim Pastor (fingers crossed).
- Supporting our Associate Pastor!
- A Lutefisk t-shirt fundraiser to help fund the roof.
- And probably a few more changes we don't even know about yet!

But no matter what comes our way, there's one thing we know: We've Got This Covered!

More information to come regarding our Stewardship theme.
